CAPT. BLASSINGAME KILLED.

Shot by a Young Negro Caught Robbing His House.

SPARTANBURG, S. C., Aug. 16 .- Captain John H. Blassingame, one of the oldest and most respected citizens of this city and State, was shot and killed this afternoon by Chris Cannon, a negro boy. Captain Blassingame was alone at his sister's the purpose of robbery. Pistol shots were found dead, shot twice through the heart. The negro was tracked to a house a half mile distant, where he was found shot through the chest. Two empty pistols, found in the room, indicate that both parties engaged in the shooting. The negro was taken to jail. His wound is not thought to be fatal. There is some talk of ynching, but the law will take its course. Captain Blassingame was a member of one of the most prominent families in the State and a man respected and honored by all. He was a gallant Confederate soldier

OMAHA, Neb., Aug. 16 .- Senator John M. Thurston to-day gave out for publication the following copy of a letter which he malled to-day to Senator Stewart, of

"To Hon. William Stewart, editor of the Silver Knight, Washington, D. C. Sir-On return from my recent campaign tour I find your open letter of Aug. 1 which you so kindly gave to the press of the country before awaiting its receipt by me. In your letter you refer to the address delivered by me at the Chautauqua Assembly at Madison, Wis., on July 31. Of late years, owing to the encouragement that they have received from the Republican party, which always does something for silver when it passes a tariff bill, the proprietors of the big bonanzas have found it profitable to keep a large number of orators, lecturers and other spokesmen on the road, preaching to the people already limping as a result of bites by the free sliver cure, the sovpeople already limping as a result ereign remedy of applying the hair of the "'Among the many who have been thus employed and carried on the pay rolls of the big bonanzas for a number of years is William J. STORMY MEETING AND DUEL CHAL-LENGE BY OCHANDO'S UNCLE.

Filibustering Record of the Laurada Received at Madrid from the United States.

KEY WEST, Fla., Aug. 16 .- Captain General Weyler and General Ochando were the principals in a sensational affair which occurred shortly before the latter sailed for Spain. The death of General Ochando's nephew, who was a lieutenant in the Spanish army, was the cause of the trouble.

There were ugly rumors in circulation reflecting on the young lieutenant, who was accused of conducting a treasonable correspondence with Maximo Gomez, the insurgent chief. When Weyler heard of the rumors he summoned the young man to the apparently satisfied of the young man's guilt, and told him that if he did not commit suicide in twenty-four hours he would be court-martialed and shot. The lieutenant left the palace, went to his room and in six hours was a corpse, having shot himself through the heart. The affair was hushed up and the Spanish officials report said the young man died of yellow fever. Shortly afterwards General Ochando arrived in Havana and learned the true story of his nephew's death. He was greatly en-

He immediately went to the palace to call Weyler to account. The meeting the Generals was most sensational. Ochando denounced Weyler in the bitterest terms, alleging that the lieutenant was guiltless, and had been driven to his death. Ochando termed Weyler a murderer and butcher, and challenged him to a duel. The men drew swords, and would have fought in the palace but for the inter-

Friends of Henry Williams Dwight, who died on June 8, at his father's home, in Stockbridge, Mass., probably were surprised to learn yesterday that he had been married eighteen months before his death, Most of them got the news first through the publication of a notice of the marriage in a morning paper yesterday, together with a repetition of the notice of his death.

Dwight, who was twenty-six years old at the time of his death, had been wedded secretly in New York on Jan. 13, 1895, in the Little Church Around the Corner. His bride was a girl of nineteen from Cincin-nati, Mary Knight Culbertson. She is a member of an excellent family, being a granddaughter of Robert Knight, who, until recently, was the British consul in Cincinnati. The only witnesses to the marriage ceremony were James Farnes, one of young Dwight's most intimate friends, in New York, and Mary Magdalena Palmer. The Dwight family is of old Puritan stock. The young man's father, Colonel James E

Dwight, is a lawyer of repute.

Convention Next Week. Special to the Indianapolis Journal. TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Aug. 16 .- President Higgins, of the Indiana Republican League, has completed the list of delegates to the national convention to be held in Milwaukee next week by appointments where : acancles were left by the State convention last February. The special rate of one fare for the round trip is good on all roads.

The information received by President Higgins is to the effect that Gordon, of Chicago, is making the most determined effort to be elected national president, but Woodmansee, of Ohio, will be pushed by some of his friends. General McAlpin, of New York, the present occupant, will not be a candidate for re-election. The Indiana delegation will be composed as follows: Ex officio--President, A. M. Higgins; Secretary, J. J. Higgins; Vice President, A. R.
